To the Members of the Class of 1902.

This year when it became time to think of arranging for the triennial celebration, the secretary found that owing to the frequent changes of many members his address list was out of date.

He therefore decided to compile a new list of addresses and occupations, and to publish with this a list of marriages, deaths, and a statement of the class fund.

An innovation was tried this year of writing personally to each man, as it was hoped in this way to show that more than an ordinary amount of time and money was being expended, and so arouse sufficient interest to get a reply from everyone.

In this undertaking the secretary has signed somewhat over eleven hundred letters. The result has been fairly satisfactory, as answers have been received from about six hundred men.

Every effort has been made to obtain an address from each man, and in future communications will only be sent to those who have furnished or shall furnish an address where letters reach them.

A list of men who have failed to answer is appended. In some instances the addresses given are of a temporary character such as (Richard Roe, Harvard Law School, Cambridge). The secretary asks all men leaving a professional school to work in some other place to acquaint him immediately with their new address.

The secretary wishes to thank in general the officers of colleges, newspapers and business houses whose help he asked, for their valuable assistance and in particular Mr. W. R. Thayer, Editor of the Harvard Graduates' Magazine, Mr. John D. Merrill, Editor of the Harvard Bulletin.

In behalf of the class committee the secretary wishes to urge every member of the class to subscribe as freely as possible to the class fund, as at present it is inadquate to provide for our celebrations and yields barely enough to supply the current yearly expenses. Let those who have given, continue their annual installments and those who have not given anything, make up for lost time.

The secretary wishes to urge the necessity of keeping him informed of the changes of address, the marriage or the death of any classmate as it is in this way only that we shall continue in touch with one another, and keep up a strong and healthy class spirit.

Barrett Wendell, Jr.,
37 Beacon St., Boston, Mass.
